Fun with paint!and scissors!

How good is your aim? Hopefully, your aim is getting good by now! Try the stations again today and see how much better you are! (If you've just joined, look back to Monday 30th)

Paint blob pictures are always such fun to make..... however old you are!

Take a sheet of A4 paper and fold it in half. Open it out again and on one side drop blobs of paint (don't use too much or it will be very messy and you won't get a good result!) Add some blobs of a second and third colour.

Fold the paper in half again and smooth with the flat of your hand. The paints will mix and form different patterns. Open them out to see what you have!

Experiment with using 2 colours.....or 3.....or 4! Which colours work the best? Put a little of one colour on top of another. Do you like the effect? If so, try with different colours.

All your pictures will be symmetrical. You might want to cut around your paint blot? You might want to keep it symmetrical? If you do, wait for it to dry, then fold it in half and cut out a shape.

Play a game of Gobolinks!

All look at each other's pictures and think about what you see in the swirling shapes? Does it look like a particular animal.... a monster..... a castle? Score points for the most imaginative suggestions!

Choose the best ones to stick on the fridge door. Email photos of them to us and we'll create an online gallery. inspirefm@holyltrinitycuckfield.org

If you're keeping a paper chain diary, don't forget to add another link today.

Remember to save boxes, yoghurt pots, pips and stones from fruit, egg shells.....anything that might be useful!
